CEPT RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM 2024

CEPT University is pleased to invite you to the fourth annual CEPT Research Symposium with a two-day event being organized on 23-24th February 2024. The symposium will focus on the advanced academic and professional research at CEPT University.

- The symposium is designed to provide a platform for sharing research findings and experiences, as well as to learn from peer and expert reviews and discussions.
- A select group of CEPT faculty members and researchers/professionals from across the country are invited to participate in the thematic panels.
- Day one shall cover topics related to architectural research, processes of setting up the research inquiry, data assimilation, and analytical methods.
- Day two panels will be focused on transit oriented cities, gender and urban mobilities, and housing rights.
