Monsoon Semester 2018 at CEPT

The campus is now thronged with the new batch of undergraduates across all faculties. Welcome to those who are just settling into their new programme. These first days on campus are very special as students find their way around and make friends that will last for life.

Students will have had their first tour by now and they would be a bit familiar with how things work. As students now know, library is open 86 hours a week [!] over 7 days! Please ask in case of any doubt.

At the library we are very keen to support student activities of all kinds and will be meeting the new representatives to engage with them. We have an exciting series of opportunities to offer the Student Council, once they are elected.

Students at the library

Let us know about your particular interests or if you cannot find what you are looking for.

Very soon the new Student Council elections will take place and for all of you it is the chance to be involved with how things work on campus and to make a difference.
Inter Library Connections:

As you know this city has a number of wonderful libraries. We are building a network of connections with other libraries. The British Library at Vastrapur has a small library with access to great language facilities and a very interesting cultural programmes.

At CEPT we have membership cards available to students and faculty. Please ask any of the librarians about using these. For those who are living here with children, this will be particularly attractive and useful.

Course Reference Collection (CRC)

CEPT library is offering 'Course Reference Collection'. On instructions of a faculty member, issuable books are treated as reference books for specific time period. This facility makes the book available for all students when many students have to use it.

Books, journal articles, lecture notes and other resources recommended by course instructors will be stacked (on a shelf beside the computer catalogue, Level -1.) Resources under CRC will be available for reference during regular library hours or can be issued overnight.

To place a resource under CRC, the instructor should email (librarian@cept.ac.in) the name of the books, course name, course number and duration for keeping the resource under CRC. The CRC collection will be dissolved at the end of the specified period. Please feel free to contact us for any queries or suggestions.

Newspaper

The daily newspapers are now being kept at the canteen for your enjoyment. Please make sure you return the paper to the stand so that others may also enjoy.

Ramp Exhibition

The first of our popular ramp exhibitions of New Arrivals will take place on 8th August, from 10am to 3pm. Tea and coffee will be served.

This is a great chance to see the new books across all disciplines at a glance. Books may be issued on the spot also. All are welcome.
